CHAMPIONSHIPS

About Sarajevo

Sarajevo is the capital and largest city of Bosnia and Herzegovina, with a population of around 500.000 inhabitants. Sarajevo is the political, social, sports and cultural center of Bosnia and Herzegovina, a prominent center of culture in the Balkans, with its region-wide influence in sports, entertainment, media, fashion, and the arts.

Due to its long and rich history of religious and cultural diversity, Sarajevo is sometimes called the "Jerusalem of Europe". It is one of only a few major European cities which have a mosque, Catholic church, Orthodox church and synagogue within the same neighborhood.

Although settlement in the area stretches back to prehistoric times, the modern city arose as an Ottoman stronghold in the 15th century. Sarajevo has attracted international attention several times throughout its history. In 1885, Sarajevo was the first city in Europe and the second city in the world to have a full-time electric tram network running through the city, following San Francisco. In 1914, it was the site of the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria by Gavrilo Princip which sparked World War I.

After World War II, the establishment of the Socialist Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina within the Second Yugoslavia led to a massive expansion of Sarajevo, the constituent republic's capital, which culminated with the hosting of the 1984 Winter Olympics marking a prosperous era for the city.

However, after the start of the Yugoslav Wars, for 1,425 days, from April 1992 to February 1996, the city suffered the longest siege of a capital city in the history of modern warfare, during the Bosnian War and the breakup of Yugoslavia.

But after the bad years always comes the sun and progress:

Sarajevo named World's Top Destination for 2025 by National Geographic readers

“Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia and Herzegovina, has been chosen as the best destination in the world for 2025 by the readers of National Geographic magazine. The city, rich in history and culture, beat out popular tourist spots such as Thailand, Tunisia, Ireland, and Australia to take the top spot in the prestigious Readers’ Choice vote.

National Geographic pointed out that Sarajevo’s appeal to travellers continues to grow, captivating visitors with its blend of centuries-old history and stunning natural beauty. The Miljacka River, which flows under over a dozen bridges, is an integral part of the city’s charm. Iconic bridges like the Latin Bridge, known for its historical significance, and Skenderija, which according to local folklore was built from the same materials as the Eiffel Tower, are popular landmarks.”
